UCLan Publishing has teamed up with the British Shakespeare Association Education Network to bring you an exciting opportunity. We are running a national competition in which you will be asked to submit creative pieces that will then go on to form the book, "Inspired by Shakespeare". We aim to publish in 2016, marking the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's death.

The competition is your chance to celebrate Shakespeare's work in terms of how he has impacted art, literature, culture and YOU. Share your love for Shakespeare through submitting a creative piece, in the form of art or literature inspired by your favourite quote. The quote can be from either his plays, his sonnets or his life as long as it is personal to you. You will also be required to submit a short bio detailing your chosen quote and why this has inspired your creative piece.

Our vision is to celebrate Shakespeare's timelessness through inviting individuals from all walks of life to share their personal interpretation of his work.

Learn more about UCLan Publishing:

UCLan Publishing is a not-for-profit organisation. Previous UCLan Publishing publications have included "Letters to Africa", "The Jacqueline Wilson Fan Book" and "Life Beneath the Northern Lights".

Follow <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yCms7HEic5I> and <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bVepSoqtogM> for short films about the projects.

Our books are stocked by Waterstones and Amazon and any profits made go towards the next project/ to charities such as MaaChild (<http://www.maachild.com/>).
